Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 1, line 4, "a tear strip" should be -- a resistant tear strip --. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nelson (5,115,934).

Nelson discloses, in figs. 8, 9 and 11, a tamper resistant lid comprising a lid having a peripheral skirt 48 forming an annulus 44; a tear strip 34 secured to a peripheral edge of the skirt by a thin section forming a hinge 36, the tear strip having a plurality of tabs 50; one or more spurs 58 of each tab constructed to fold beneath a flange around a rim of a container; the spurs having a latch mechanism 69 having step edge for securely retaining the tear strip on the lid. The lid further comprising a plurality of slots 52, and the tabs are curved to abut and engage an outer surface of the container (see fig. 8).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Bowers, Nelson, Bordner, Krout, Edwards, and Rathbun teach tamper resistant lids having tear strips with spurs.
